The Economic and Political Philosophy of F.A. Hayek

Lecture: Time: Tue 10-12; Place: Room 1032

PLEASE NOTE: The lecture on April 17th will take place from 11.15 to 12.45!

Support: Sara Borella, Room 2433, Tel.: 203-2321, E-mail: sara.borella@vwl.uni-freiburg.de,
Office hours: On appointment

This course will provide an introduction into the work of F.A. Hayek who taught at the University of Freiburg from 1962 to 1969 and who was awarded the Nobel Prize in Economic Science in 1974. F.A. Hayek is regarded as the most influential liberal thinker and as one of the most important economists and social philosophers of the 20th century.

The 4 Credit Points course is open to students in the Master in Economics and Politics program as well as to students in the regular economics program (Diplom - Hauptstudium). Credits can be earned based on participation in classroom discussion, a short paper (8 pp.) and a written exam at the end of the semester. A collection with copies of the readings for this course will be available in the VWL library (Semesterapparat) and on Campus-online. The notes on which the lectures are based will be posted in advance on the website: www.wipo.uni-freiburg.de and in the Semesterapparat.
