

1.1 Organizational Form

Deviates significantly from „usual seminars“
Combines presentations by Prof. Neumärker and group works.
Students are strongly invited to involve themselves in the discussions.

1.2 Sessions and Experiment

- 3 Two hour sessions for theoretical foundations
- 2 Three hour experiment
- 2 Two hour sessions with critical discussion

1.3 Assignments

Questions on the readings to be prepared for before the session. To be handed in latest at the beginning of the session

1.4. Presence and Participation in Class

Assignments, to be handed in before each session
Active participation in class discussions
Participants obliged to attend all sessions

1.5. Seminar Paper: September 3, 2016

In pairs students will design and carry out an experiment on social contracting or basic income. The paper will be a critical reflection on theory, design and results of your experiment. We expect the paper to be in the format of an experimental paper which is generally in the format (introduction, literature discussion, experimental design, results and conclusion)

Formalities: between 8 and 12 pages text body, see hints on our homepage for citation style and other details.

1.6 Presentation

During the feedback session, you will present the results of your experiment.

1.7. Assessment

Seminar Paper (Experiment):	50%
Presentation:	20%
Assignments:	20%
Class Participation:	10%

6 ECTS credit points upon successful completion
